based on indications given by par. 4.4.1 of the "Report of the Working Group of the Steering Group of Human Resources Management under the European Research Area on Open, Transparent and Merit-based Recruitment of Researchers"

Recruiting Department/Research Unit Education, Cultural Heritage and Tourism

Title: Citizenship and peace education in school curricula for children's literature: an entangled historical analysis between local contexts and transnational networks.

Offer description:

Considering the framework of common global trends highlighted in the educational field, the project intends to deepen the link between citizenship and peace education, the organization of the curriculum in a broad sense and themes such as intercultural pedagogy and inclusion. In particular, these interconnected topics will be observed in the field of children's literature and (multi)lingual teaching. Furthermore, the research project aims to investigate and delve deeper into the origins and historical contexts that have favoured the emergence and development of the aforementioned issues through the use of a methodology that focuses on transnational networks active, especially in the European space. The concept of network will be central to understanding the role of the different local and global actors involved.
